HONGKONG OCTOBER 4TH, 1913.

This is the age of Advertisement. Never were the sweet uses of advertisement so widely recognised as they are to-day. The age when it could truthfully be said that "good wine needs no push" (to use the modernised version of the phrase) has passed. The advertising expert will tell you that the human demands which the industries of nations supply have been created by publicity. "People buy, because advertising awakens and fosters their wants." This applies not merely to articles of manufacture. Towns even are built up by advertisement, not only in the United States of America and in some of the self-governing British Colonies, where the art of advertisement is well understood, but even in Old England abundant evidence is afforded in this connection of the uses of advertisement. "The Holiday industry," for example, is a notable development of recent years, and a writer in a recent London paper who indulges in some interesting speculations on the cost of running a Seaside Resort reminds us that towns and villages that in the old days relied for a living on fishing, or boatmaking, or farming, or brewing, or any other old-fashioned occupation now make it their principal business to attract and entertain visitors. A seaside town is no longer only a town. It is an entertainment with a programme. It is calculated that at least £20,000,000 is spent on holidays in Great Britain every summer, and every town which has the smallest pretence to being a seaside resort invests lavishly in pleasure gardens, amusements, pavilions, piers, bathing places, bowling greens, tennis courts and golf links, and they evidently find it pays them handsomely to advertise themselves in this way. The "holiday industry" has spread to the Far East. Japan has long been the summer resort favoured by foreign residents in the Far East, and we have of late years seen Java making a bid for holiday traffic. Manila has been proclaiming the attractions of Baguio; and Kiochow advertises its unrivalled beaches, where bands play daily in the summer season, and has added to the attractions of the place for visitors by arranging international sports meetings annually. But the Americans of Manila are not so much interested in making Baguio a Mecca of holiday-seekers in the East, as in making the commercial possibilities of the islands better known to the world. This is the task which the Merchants Association of Manila have set themselves to "boost the Philippines." We see by the Manila papers which arrived yesterday that the large hall of the Association was "taxed to its capacity and standing room was at a premium" when a specialist in advertising last week delivered an address on "Straight-out Advertising." The sum and substance of his advice was that "the modest sum of $50,000 annually for three or four years, spent in straight-out, informative advertising in the United States will do more for the Philippines than all the lectures, all the political influence, all the lobbying at Washington, all the entrancing stories of travellers could accomplish in a score of years." Congressman MILLER, who has been in the Islands investigating the conditions and was present at the meeting, indicated a few ways in which the Islands could benefit immensely by judicious and persistent advertising. "One would imagine that the Americans in Manila needed little instruction in this connection, for they realise how much has already been accomplished by the 'boosting' that has been done in the past and how much more can still be accomplished for the development of the trade and commerce of the Islands in the same way. And what of advertising Hongkong? Probably most people would say it has nothing to advertise; its geographical position constitutes a sufficient advertisement. Not everyone so complacently regards the future, however, and it would be well for the powers-that-be to consider in time the advisability of advertising these advantages and the facilities the port affords for the handling of freight from the interior. This is desirable not only in the interests of the railway but in the general interests of the Colony as an export centre, and it is one of the things that should be done as soon as the Kowloon-Canton Railway is linked up with the Canton-Hankow Railway by the loop line to which we referred in this column a few days ago.

When his Lordship the Puisne Judge took his seat on the bench, at the Supreme Court yesterday and before he proceeded with the list of cases, Mr. Goldring said—Would your Lordship allow me, before the Court proceeds, to refer to the case in which Cheng Jack is suing Miss Maud Thomson for wages. Mr. Faithfull has mentioned to me that a remark I let fall last week has given rise to some misapprehension as to whether a dispute has occurred or not between Mr. Nicol and Miss Thomson, and Mr. Faithfull has asked me to be good enough to mention the fact that there has been no dispute between Mr. Nicol and Miss Thomson, and that the only dispute is between my client (Cheng Jack) and the other parties on the question as to whom he is to take his orders from. I am sorry if any words I used have caused any misunderstanding.

THE BANK RATE.

THE REASON FOR THE RISE.

LONDON, October 3rd.

The Bank rate of discount is at 5 per cent.

The City Editors say the ostensible rise of the Bank rate is in consequence of heavy shipments of gold to Egypt owing to an acceleration of the crop movement. The Continent recently secured all available supplies of South African gold. There is every prospect of England and France continuing to finance the borrowing countries on an exceptional scale due to the cost of the wars in the Balkans; hence the necessity for protecting the reserves. There are no signs of actual monetary stringency.

THE RADIUM INSTITUTE.

SIR FREDERICK TREVES ON ITS WORK.

LONDON, October 3rd.

Sir Frederick Treves, speaking at the Radium Institute, said the Institute possessed four grammes of radium worth £80,000. It was the largest amount used in any institution. Sir Frederick cited some remarkable cases of easing cancer and cures of rheumatic affections by drinking radium water. A process had been discovered for bottling emanations of radium for dispatch to practitioners without weakening the radium.

AMERICAN IRON WORKER'S SENSATIONAL CONFESSION.

LABOUR UNION OFFICIALS IMPLICATED IN DYNAMITE OUTRAGES.

NEW YORK, October 3rd.

A sensation has been created by an iron worker named Davis, arrested for blowing up a railway bridge in New York in 1911, who has confessed to the crime, and implicated a number of Labour Union officials in a series of dynamite and similar outrages in recent years.

Once, the Treasurer of the Structural Ironworkers' Union, has been arrested in Indianapolis for alleged connection in a conspiracy with Ryan, the notorious MacNamara brothers, and 30 other ironworkers, to wreck the property of the American Bridge Company.

SWEDISH KING ILL.

STOCKHOLM, October 3rd.

The King is lying ill at Skadersjoe Castle. A bulletin just issued says that since the operation in 1910 the Royal patient has often suffered from stomachic pains, which have lately increased in severity. The doctors had advised special treatment, and ordered His Majesty to keep to his bed and not attend to any business. There is no cause for anxiety.

THE HOME RULE CONTROVERSY.

LONDON, October 3rd.

The Unionist papers give prominence to a speech delivered by Mr. F. E. Smith, K.C., M.P. at Cookstown (Ireland) in which he said: "The attempt to impose Home Rule on a homogeneous portion of Ulster would be met with armed resistance, if necessary, and carried any length."

The papers state that the speeches of Mr. Smith embody the views of the Unionist leaders whom he saw in England last week. The above utterance is regarded as indicating that the Unionists are willing to enter the Conference on the basis of the exclusion of Counties Down, Antrim, Derry, and Armagh from Home Rule.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S LAND CAMPAIGN.

LONDON, October 3rd.

Active preparations are being made for a meeting at Bedford on the 11th inst., when Mr. Lloyd George will open his land campaign.

GREECE AND TURKEY.

THE CLAIM TO THE AEGEAN ISLANDS.

ATHENS, October 3rd.

The Naval reservists have been summoned to join the colours within three days. All departments of defence are taking every measure dictated by the uncertainty of the situation. Greece regards Turkey's latest pretensions to retain a number of the Aegean Islands as adding to the seriousness of the situation. She accuses Turkey of persistently delaying a settlement and of now attempting to entirely alter the basis of negotiations, with regard to which only two small points were outstanding. Greece, while ready to discuss these points, absolutely refuses to re-open the question of the Aegean Islands.

AN AUSTRIAN REMONSTRANCE TO SERBIA.

LONDON, October 3rd.

Austria has emphatically pointed out to Serbia the necessity of observing the decisions of the London Peace Conference in regard to Albania. Serbia replied to the effect that she was only acting on the defensive, and did not intend to seize any Albanian territory.

They have appealed against the order, and meanwhile are detained at Ellis Island.

THE LATE PROFESSOR MILNE'S WILL.

Professor John Milne, D.Sc., F.R.S., aged 93 years, of Shide House, Newport, Isle of Wight, the noted seismologist, the inventor of an apparatus for recording earthquakes, formerly for 20 years in the employ of the Japanese Government as geologist and mining engineer and professor of seismology in Tokyo University, left estate of the value of £11,927. Testator left to Robert Cunningham Brown, Deputy Commissioner for Lunacy for Scotland, £100; to his wife, Mrs. Toke Milne, £200 and his household and personal effects; and his books, albums, and scientific instruments relating to seismology to the British Association. His real estate at Tunhill and Hen Car Farm he left upon trust for his wife for life, with remainder to the children of his aunt, Mrs. Grindrod, of Rochdale, £50 to Francis Albert Joyce, and the residue of his estate upon trust for his wife for life, and, subject to her interest, he left £1,000 to the chairman of the Seismology Committee of the British Association for the study of earth physics and its attendant subjects. And the ultimate residue as to one-fifth each to Mrs. Arthur Hills, Mrs. Augustus Hills, and Miss Lizzie Buckley, one-fifth to the children of his aunt, Mrs. Augustus Smith, of Ramsgate, and one-fifth to his cousins John and Lilian Twyross.

THE MAGISTRACY.

A GERMAN FIREMAN'S LAPSE.

At the Magistrate's yesterday morning, a German fireman named Franz Knabie, aged 39, was fined $5 for being drunk and incapable in Pedder Street.

THE ARMS' ORDINANCE.

A Chinese was charged with being in unlawful possession of a Winchester rifle, a revolver, and 600 rounds of ammunition. The man was arrested on the Ping On Wharf on Thursday. The maximum penalty, $250, or three months' imprisonment, was imposed.

RAID ON AN OPIUM DIVAN.

A body of police under Sergt. Adlington raided an opium divan at West Point on Thursday night, and arrested 14 smokers. On the premises were found no fewer than 200 empty opium pots. The man who was proved to be the keeper of the den was fined $250 or three months' imprisonment, and the remainder were each fined $2, or seven days.

A HOUSEWIFE SUMMONED.

Before Mr. F. A. Hazeland, a Chinese was summoned by his former employer, Mr. Thomas R. Nicol, of the Imperial Hotel, for disobeying his lawful commands.

Mr. R. C. Faithfull appeared for the complainant, and Mr. P. W. Goldring represented the defendant.

Complainant, in evidence, stated that in the first week in May he took a private house in Caine Road, and arranged with Mrs. Thomson to go there as housekeeper. Shortly before taking up his residence there, the defendant came to him and asked to be engaged as boy and cook at the house. Witness agreed to employ him for $22 per month, and he commenced his duties on the 16th May. On the 16th June witness paid him $19, having paid on the previous week a sum of $3 to the boy's cook. The wages for July and August were paid defendant regularly. Witness moved from Caine Road to Robinson Road on the 6th September. About 5 or 6 p.m. he asked the defendant to make a cup of tea, but he refused, saying that he had worked too hard and would do no more. Witness soon afterwards left the house, and in the evening on returning Mrs. Thomson made a complaint to him. She was much agitated. On the following Monday witness requested the defendant to make some breakfast, but he refused to do anything. Mrs. Thomson and the ayah made the breakfast. Witness told the defendant to come down to him at the Hotel and he would pay his wages, but the defendant did not do so. When witness got home at about 2 p.m. with Mrs. Thomson, the defendant was not in the house, but he came shortly afterwards. He did not seem to be sober. Witness heard him call Mrs. Thomson a liar and other things, and witness then put him outside. Defendant then threw stones into the garden, and threatened to get witness into trouble.

In cross-examination by Mr. Goldring, witness said he lived with Mrs. Thomson. The boy did not come to witness on Mrs. Thomson's recommendation. Witness took him on no recommendation, and said he would take him on trial.

His Worship expressed the view that it would be better for all parties if the case were settled out of Court.

The solicitors agreed, and ultimately an agreement was arrived at.

ALLEGED THEFT OF AMERICAN GOLD PIECES.

Before Mr. J. H. Wood yesterday afternoon, Tang Sik Hi was charged with feloniously stealing by a trick on the 14th July 15 American $20 gold pieces, to the value of $301 in local currency, the property of the complainant, Hypocrite Dedegoul, of 18, Queen's Road Central.

Mr. J. H. Gardiner appeared for the prosecutor, and Mr. W. E. L. Shenton (of Messrs. Deacon, Looker, Deacon & Harton) represented the defendant.

Mr. Gardiner stated that the complainant was a cigarette merchant, and until recently had the Turco-Filipino Store, carrying on business at No. 18, Queen's Road Central. He became acquainted with the defendant about four months ago, being introduced as a man who knew some people with money who were prepared to put their capital in a European firm. Eventually the complainant, an old man, and the defendant went to Macao, where they met a female who was represented as being possessed of considerable means. This woman was at this time staying at a large house in Macao in a fairly good street, and it was arranged that she should invest certain monies, something like $20,000, in a cigarette and tobacco factory, to be started in the Colony by the complainant. An agreement was eventually drawn up by the defendant, and the woman was to deposit this money by the 24th July. After these negotiations had been completed, the female asked the defendant to buy her 15 American $20 gold pieces, with which she intended to make a belt, and the complainant promised to buy them when he returned to the Colony.

Defendant was present at the time. Complainant had some difficulty in collecting 15 gold pieces, and the defendant came to the complainant and said he had received a letter, which he produced and handed to Mr. Dedegoul, saying that the woman urgently desired the gold pieces. Complainant said he was very busy at the time, and defendant then suggested that he should take them down to the woman, undertaking to bring back the dollars in exchange. Complainant then parted with the gold pieces, and from that day until the defendant was arrested he had seen neither him nor the other woman. The complainant found that the woman did not deposit the money in the Bank according to the agreement, and he then went to Macao to enquire about it. He went to the large house where the woman was supposed to be living, but there the people denied that this female lived there.

In answer to His Worship, Mr. Gardiner said that the woman at Macao and the old man were supposed to be parties to the trick.

Complainant and a man named John Carastantino gave evidence on behalf of the prosecution.

His Worship observed that he did not desire to send the case to the Criminal Sessions, and Mr. Gardiner told his Worship that he had another charge to add—larceny by bail.

Mr. Shenton contended that there was no evidence on that charge.

His Worship said the second charge could be taken at the end.

Defendant went into the box and denied ever receiving the gold coins.

The case was adjourned until Friday next, at noon.

A SERIES OF THEFTS.

A gold "tongue scraper," valued at $30, has been stolen from No. 12, Graham Street, occupied by a Chinese married woman.

A thief gained admittance to the house of a Chinese clerk at No. 44, Shanghai Street, and went away with a jacket, a pen, a pair of spectacles, a cigarette case, and $25 in money.

Between eight o'clock on Wednesday and nine o'clock on Thursday some person entered No. 52, Gage Street, and stole from a concubine's cubicle a pair of gold bangles, valued at $310.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

HONGKONG FOOTBALL CLUB.

SIR,—In your report of last night's meeting of the above club, you state that the motion that the club be affiliated to the Football Association was "carried by a substantial majority."

This, however, is not so. The motion was not carried and was withdrawn, the matter being left in abeyance until a reply can be received from the Association to the points we wish to raise, as mentioned in a later paragraph of your report.—Yours faithfully,

J. C. TAYLOR, Hon. Sec.

[No announcement appears to have been made at the meeting that the motion was not carried or that it was withdrawn. What happened was that a show of hands was taken on the motion for affiliation and a considerable majority was shown in favour of it. Then there was some informal discussion and another show of hands was taken in which the Rugby members did not participate. The voting then was declared by the Chairman to be equal. No request was made to the proposer and seconder of the motion to withdraw it, and it cannot therefore properly be said that the motion was withdrawn. Both our evening contemporaries, we note, report that the motion was carried.—Ed.]

HAMBURG LETTER.

[SPECIALLY WRITTEN FOR THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

HAMBURG, September 10th.
THE N.D.L. REPORT.

At a meeting of the administrative council of the Norddeutsche Lloyd, held in Bremen on the 5th inst., it was stated that the first six months of the present year compared very favourably with the same period in 1912, due chiefly to a considerable increase in the traffic on both the North and South American lines; with the exception of the mail service to Australia nearly all the other lines had done well, too. The financial position of the Company had improved materially, for, whereas the available funds at the end of last year had amounted to 51 million Marks, they had risen to 61 millions by the end of August, although in the meantime large payments on account had been made on the twelve steamers aggregating 110,000 tons, now in course of construction. With regard to a renewal of the mail contracts with the Imperial Government, negotiations were now in progress, but whatever the result might be it was the intention to continue the fortnightly passenger service to the East and to resume the regular despatch of cargo boats to those parts. On the other hand, it had been decided to give up the chief Australian lines, which had been worked at a heavy loss, unless better terms could be obtained in Berlin. With a view to furthering the development of the colonial possessions the Company was prepared to continue and eventually extend their lines in the South Seas, if a fair equivalent could be secured from the Government.

It had been decided to give out orders for four new cargo boats of 12,000 tons carrying capacity each and for sister ships to the Columbus (35,000 tons) and the Bremen (18,000 tons). A service through the Panama Canal when opened was under consideration, particulars of which would be published later on.

EMIGRATION TRAFFIC.

Nothing further has transpired concerning the differences between the Norddeutsche Lloyd and the Hamburg America Line, but it does not look as if any approach towards a better understanding had been arrived at. Emigration from this port has been very active during the past eight months, the figure in the present year being in round numbers 138,000 as compared with 84,192 during the same period in 1912. 53,991 in 1911, 81,639 in 1910 and 75,310 in 1909. The percentage of Germans amongst them is growing less and less; of the 17,522 persons that left this port last month only 874 or about 5 per cent. were natives of this country, whilst in the same month last year 654 or 6 per cent. out of 10,008 were Germans. The fact that the great majority of emigrants hail from Eastern Europe has led to a scheme being suggested in the French Press for the formation of a steamship company for the purpose of establishing an emigrant service between a Russian port on the Baltic and the United States, provided an agreement could be made with the Government in St. Petersburg similar to that existing between the Cunard Line and the Austrian authorities. Whether steps have been taken to carry out the plan is not known.

TRADE PROSPECTS.

Now that the negotiations for the definite settlement of the terms of the treaty of peace in the Balkans are making satisfactory progress and an understanding between Bulgaria and Turkey seems likely to be arrived at shortly, business shows signs of renewed activity, and although competent judges are of opinion that a boom such as was witnessed last year is not to be expected this winter, prospects seem on the whole encouraging. The textile industries appear to be well under order, whilst the heavier ones, in spite of a slight falling off in the demand for iron, etc., are equally well engaged, so that owing to their requirements an extensive business in coal may be looked for later on. Great excitement has prevailed in the cotton markets up to the last two or three days, the report of the Agricultural Bureau in Washington for the month of August, which appeared on the 3rd inst., fully confirming the private advice of a serious deterioration in the condition of the growing crop. The stand is stated to have been 68.2 per cent. against 79.6 per cent. at the end of July, and as, in the expectation of a reaction after the first rise of a halfpenny a fortnight ago, heavy short sales seem to have been effected, a rush was made to cover them which sent up prices another halfpenny and more. Since then profit taking and the news of beneficial rains in the States affected by drought have checked the advance, and prices have given way a little, but the position of the article continues strong, as the trade holds no large stocks of the raw material, and, whilst pursuing a hand to mouth policy, cannot keep out of the market altogether. The Indian markets have followed the lead of the American ones and new crops there, in spite of the promise of an abundant supply, are held for prices that spinners in Europe cannot make up their minds to pay. China cotton has been in some demand lately, but offers from there are not plentiful and quotations pretty stiff. It may be that exporters, considering the unsatisfactory political situation of the republic, are chary of committing themselves. With regard to the difficulties that have arisen within the last few days between China and Japan, the public in this country seems inclined to sympathize with the Celestials.

LABOUR TROUBLES.

It was hoped that the troubles in the shipbuilding yards had come to an end; the hiring bureau had been reopened everywhere and the workmen were reinstated as fast as circumstances permitted; but the gathering of several thousand men who had so far not found employment this morning in front of the town hall and their procession through the main thoroughfares of the city show that the embers are still glowing under the ashes and that fresh disturbances may occur at any time.

THE NAVAL AIRSHIP DISASTER.

The terrible accident to the naval airship Z.1, yesterday about fourteen miles off Heligoland has made a deep impression on everybody; it is the first time that lives have been lost in a dirigible. The airship was taking part in the naval manoeuvres and was flying at a height of about 1,500 yards above the level of the sea in order to be out of reach of the enemy's fire. The low temperature prevailing up there is supposed to have affected the gas in the balloon, whilst the heavy rain added considerably to its weight; it sank lower and lower and there was only just time to apprise the fleet of its danger by a wireless message, when it struck the water, where the force of the wind and the fury of the waves made an end of it. Of the crew of twenty only eleven were saved by two men-of-war that had hastened to the spot.

UNIVERSITY MEN AS CLERKS.

A very useful man, a man of good carriage, might be made one of the firm's representatives, rising in one or two instances to £1,000 a year. The manager of their London office came in at about 10, and was now about 37. Several men, had been tried who were University men, but they had not been an unqualified success, being either without technical commercial training or a little inattentive to business, and not sufficiently industrious to acquire the terms of the business. Such a man would say "This is a matter of detail," when it was important, detail, of course, which was important. About half a dozen had been tried, and one remained now on trial, a very able man, who might turn out a good man yet, a clerk recruited young would wait until the end of the day, and not wish to make short days like these University men, who liked ten to four instead of nine to six, when in a big industrial firm the last half-hour was perhaps the most important part of the day. Some had not a sufficient bent of mind to stop their time. The man now with them was keeping better time, but was having ill-health, their rooms not being very large and the wear and tear telling upon him (Evidence before the Civil Service Commission.)

ARE YOU "LIVERISH"?

To feel "liverish" is to feel wretched, but to be really bilious, is indeed agony. Liverishness often becomes biliousness if you leave your liver to work out its own salvation. A few doses of a time-proved stomach and liver corrective and tonic such as Mother Seigel's Syrup is generally all that is needed to ensure the regular and even flow of bile so necessary to the perfect digestion of food and the regular daily action of the bowels. It is a simple matter to take thirty drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup in a little water whenever you feel a tendency to liverishness or have partaken heartily of food that is liable to disagree with you; yet thousands of people avoid the consequences of biliousness and indigestion in just this simple way. They keep a bottle of Mother Seigel's Syrup handy for use when needed. That is what Mrs. Gilmore does now, after proving its worth in her own case. Just read her testimony which follows. Writing on December 20th last, from 38, Addison Road, Salt River, Cape, she says:

"I used Mother Seigel's Syrup eleven years ago, for indigestion and a disordered liver. My troubles were not relieved in any shape or form by any of the other medicines tried, and they were many; and my depressed and precarious state of health caused me very much anxiety."

"Pains and discomfort in the chest after eating, frequent vomiting, and a heavy drowsy feeling, quite unfitted me for anything. I was practically helpless. My sleep became most irregular, because of the shifting pains, which seemed to stab me in the back and sides."

"After taking four bottles of Mother Seigel's Syrup, my ailments disappeared. Since then an occasional dose has been sufficient to keep me in the best of health."

"Just as soon as your powers of digestion fail, you are pretty sure to be visited with the pains of indigestion. Often the first sign is a furred tongue, a nasty taste in the mouth, or lost appetite. Perhaps you have pains in the chest, or wind and pain in the stomach. Then you may have headaches, bilious attacks, constipation, lack of vigour, sleeplessness, or 'nerves.' Day after day you feel 'out of sorts,' unfit for your work, and, may be, you are a 'wee bit' irritable. All these troubles are sure signs of indigestion. Your stomach and liver need the aid of Mother Seigel's Syrup. A short course of this medicine will put your digestive organs in good working order. Then you will be able to digest and gain nourishment from your food; you will be free from the miseries of indigestion, and you will feel fit and well. Try it for yourself!"

Many people have stated that they would not willingly be without a bottle of Mother Seigel's Syrup in the house if the cost were six times as great as it is. Don't accept an inferior substitute. Insist and be sure you get the genuine Mother Seigel's Syrup, manufactured by A. J. White (Colonial), Ltd., Pt. Elizabeth.

Catarrh of Digestive Organs.

The soothing, healing, and tonic properties of Angier's Emulsion eminently adapt it to the relief and cure of stomach and bowel disorders of a catarrhal, fermentative, ulcerative or tubercular nature. Simple and harmless, this remedy exercises its soothing, lubricating effects throughout the entire alimentary tract. It arrests fermentation, checks bacterial growth, and promotes normal, healthy action of the bowels. Angier's Emulsion has proved most efficacious in gastric or intestinal catarrh, gastric ulcer, mucous colitis, chronic indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, chronic constipation, and in many obscure bowel disorders.

ANGIER'S EMULSION

"Completely Cured my Stomach Catarrh."

Dear Sirs,—For many years I have used Angier's Emulsion for throat and lung, and always with beneficial results. Of late I have been suffering from catarrh of the stomach, accompanied by an unhealthy action of the bowels. Knowing the soothing effects of Angier's Emulsion on the stomach, I determined to give it a trial, and am pleased to tell you that it has completely cured my stomach catarrh, and has also put my bowels right. I did not before know that Angier's Emulsion was good for bowel troubles, but in my case, at any rate, it has proved the right thing. It is almost five years since I first began with the Emulsion, and from my experience I can thoroughly recommend it as a reliable and efficient remedy.

THE OLYMPIC GAMES OF 1916.

PREPARATIONS IN AMERICA.

Amateur sport is taken much more seriously in the United States than in England, probably owing to the intense rivalry between the hundreds of colleges, schools and athletic clubs throughout the country, which are always competing with one another in the scores of associations throughout the United States. It is safe to say that there is hardly a week in the year in which meetings for track and field sports are not held for one kind or another of championship, and the athlete has to keep in training most of the time. The college man begins work when college opens, and does not cease when the scholastic year is over, for there are athletic club meetings in the summer for which he is eligible, and clubs offer all sort of inducements to attract the pick of University athletes. All this is after the college championships, which convene at the Oxford and Cambridge sports, are held. In the winter months clubs and colleges have indoor sports, so that the American athlete is in almost constant preparation and ready to do his best in spring, summer, autumn, and winter, and this year-round training is about all that will be done to prepare the American team for the Olympic Games at Berlin in 1916.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE COMPETITIONS. The American amateur athlete begins his preparation to compete in future Olympic Games when little more than a child in the schools. The workings of the Public Schools Athletic League of New York City give a fair example of the beginning. The younger classes work on track and field sports as a body and medals are given for proficiency in many branches. As the boys grow older they begin to specialise, and are divided into teams by weight and age, and are thus put on a comparatively equal footing. When they get on to the first teams they represent their schools in what are called the championships of the elementary schools, and later on become members of the high school teams, and are developed further by competent coaches before passing on to the colleges, or athletic clubs; indeed it is rarely that any athlete is first developed at a college or a club.

But it is in the colleges that probably 80 per cent. of the champion athletes of America have made their first winning, for it is there that the greatest amount of attention is given to specialising. There are coaches for almost every branch of sport, and the sprinter is often trained by one professional, the middle distance runner by another, the distance runner by another, while the field sports all have their own coaches. This state of affairs does not obtain in all colleges, but in the larger ones, where the rivalry is strongest, nothing is left undone to give the runners, jumpers, or weight men the best possible training in the events in which they have chosen to shine or, more often than not, the sport that has been chosen for them. In the school days of the athlete his prime object is to win as many points as he can for his school, and this wish becomes even stronger when he gets to college. He is his college, first, last, and all time. He is developed to the highest pitch to compete for the honour of his Alma Mater, and when he leaves, or even before that, for that matter, he is ready to stand for his country or for his club whenever called upon. Every college champion, and he sometimes appears in the freshman year, has to be ready when called upon to defend a trophy held by his college in at least eight months of every year, and sometimes ten months.

This strenuous competition in school and college days which is always going on and which seems to be getting stronger with each succeeding year, explains why there is no need for special preparation for the Olympic Games in the past, and what will probably be done in the future, was to hold a series of games in different sections of the country about two months before the Games, and then to send the best men from these meetings to compete against each other shortly before the great contest.

THE QUESTION OF FUNDS.

The raising of the money to pay the expenses of the team for the Games is generally begun a few months before the time of starting. There are several ways in which this is done, although the bulk of the money is raised by subscription in the athletic clubs and colleges all over the country. The gathering of the fund is undertaken by the governing body of athletics, the Amateur Athletic Union, and this body holds the games at which the competitors are chosen and takes care of all finances. No Government aid is given, and thus far none has been needed or asked for. The matter is entirely a private one and patriotism is the moving spirit.

There is no certain way, of course, of estimating the cost of the years of training of the myriads of athletes from whom the champions are chosen. In the early days the expenses are largely paid by the athletes themselves, but when the college competitions are reached the expenses are paid out of the general athletic fund of each college. Admission is charged to college track and field sports, but the receipts are not large enough to meet the expenses; so the two profitable sports at the colleges and universities—football and baseball, which make enormous profits—are called upon to make up the deficiency. The cost of the athletic teams varies at the different colleges, but it is only in the smaller ones that the students have to pay heavily for their teams. Generally it is the public who pays, and the best of the college athletes have had their training expenses paid by the public who go to watch them compete. At the athletic clubs there are more members who do not compete than those who do, and it is their subscription and occasional contributions that pay for the sports there, helped along by the games indoors and out, which add more to the athletic fund. It may fairly be said, therefore, that the cost of bringing up the athletic champions of America is borne for the most part by the spectators at the games, although it is only when the time comes to pay the expenses of an international team, that the vast body of citizens is called upon to help.

There is undoubtedly a tendency in American athletics to overdo things, and this in part accounts for the new faces at the Olympic Games every four years. It is a noticeable fact that only two members of the Olympic team of 1908 competed again in 1912. Too many American athletes go stale after a few years. The prizes offered at the athletic meetings are well worth winning, expenses are often paid to induce the cranks to appear at games other than those of their own colleges or clubs, and the desire for medals in the young athlete is much greater than it was when popular. There is a possibility, however, that this tendency may be checked, as the authorities at the colleges are refusing to permit outside competition during the college terms, and their best men will, therefore, not be seen as often in competitions in the future. There is a general opinion that there is something more in sport than the winning of prizes, and that athletes should be taught to conserve their strength in their early years, so that they will not break down before they are 25, when they should be in the prime of their athletic ability, as so many do now. Indeed, it is a rare thing to see a man of 25 taking part in anything but field sports in America. Still, hard competition is the best thing in the world for sport, and the American athlete realises that the English team in 1916 will be very different from the team that his compatriots met last year, and he will have to be better, and better trained than ever, in order to win.

MR. FREDERIC HARRISON'S SHARP CRITICISM.

The appeal for £100,000 to enable England to be represented by her best athletes at the Berlin Olympic Games in 1916 is meeting with severe criticism in many quarters. Among the latest critics is Mr. Frederic Harrison, who writes severely in the Times:—

"Surely this stir about the Olympic Games three years hence has a comic side. To be held that our lads cannot fairly compete in some foot-races and other trials of strength unless a sum of £100,000 sterling can be raised, sounds rather droll. I am quite aware that Americans and others are raising huge funds and are making gigantic efforts to win prizes. And I know that unless similar efforts are made here few pots will be brought home. But the whole affair stinks of gate-money and of professional pot-hunting."

"If young men who do not gain their living by performing in public for hire are to meet and run races, leap, row, and wrestle as genuine amateurs nothing can be more wholesome. I am a devoted lover of games myself. But what does £100,000 to be spent in three years mean? It means that an army of professional coaches are to be hired to go about and pick out men having a special turn of which is as often as not quite incompatible with an all-round athletic condition of body. A long list of possible candidates are to be tried in order to discover some 'latent talents,' and 90 per cent. of these will have to be turned away as 'non-stayers.' The 10 per cent. talent finally selected are, I suppose, to be practically taken out of their usual lives, to the loss of their industrial or professional careers, and then put into the training-stable mill, just as if they were Derby colts. The average youth who can run or leap well cannot afford to give up his life for three years to be treated as a racehorse, and also to meet the inevitable expenses of trainers, practice grounds, hygienic régime, trials, and all the machinery of a crack racing stable. The loss of time, money and opportunity for any practical career must be made good in meal or in malt. It seems as if each British candidate at Berlin will cost £1,000 in some form. He has to be nursed, maintained, kept in racing condition by public money—in fact, to be hired. How does this differ from being a 'professional' performer in a kind of international circus? And how is an amateur to be defined unless it be one who plays a game for 'love,' himself and his fellow-players finding any incidental expenses? I am quite aware that in other nations this is being done. It is as dismal an act of rivalry as the race in armaments, which is crushing the life of the European Continent. In America it is easier to raise a million dollars for such a purpose than to raise 25,000 here. The United States have an aggregate wealth vastly greater than ours, and it is wealth waiting to be poured out, and not earmarked as ours is by social habits. Their population is much more than double that of the British, and men of the athletic type and breeding are more than four or five times as many. The sources for raising such funds are practically unlimited. Our sport patrons might as well try to emulate the public gifts of a Rockefeller, a Morgan, or a Carnegie."

"And for what is all this money wanted? In order to meet on equal terms foreign athletes who are not real amateurs, some of whom cannot be trusted to play the game with absolute fairness as competitors, nor, as spectators, to behave like gentlemen with good humour, decency, and self-control. Blackguardly yelling, graft, and sharp practice will soon degrade our Olympia to the level of a mob at an old-fashioned prize fight, the brutalities of which Jack Johnson is coming over to teach us."

"Alas! cricket—for the noblest of all games—is passing into mere professionalism, gate money, and contractor's jobs. In many counties the eleven, except for an amateur or two, are professionals—hired men. The 'talent' passes to a club rich enough to pay their price and to find the cost of 'qualifying,' easy as this is. So, modern cricket is tending to become a struggle of purses, not of genuine home-bred county players. This could be made to restrict a county eleven to amateurs, with one professional bowler. It would then be an honest trial of local merit. At present the county which can pay the best men, without any real condition of birth, residence, or occupation, brings the highest 'gate.'"

"And now the craze to collect Olympic dust bids fair to be another case of 'gate'—professionalism—years of special coaching. I should myself prefer to see Britain decline to enter, as not liking the terms and devices on which the show is run, and then to challenge the world to meet us at cricket, football or a steep chase. This is better than trying to beat Jack Johnson or the miraculous Italian pastry-cook."

THE OBJECTS OF THE APPEAL.

The organisers of the Olympic Games appeal desire to publish its objects, which are thus stated:—

1. To enable Britain to play her proper part in the Olympic Games at Berlin in 1916 and to regain the prestige lost at Stockholm in 1912.
2. To encourage amateur sports and athletics.
3. To raise the standard of physical efficiency of the youth of the nation.

AN AUSTRALIAN GUARANTEE.

Mr. Hugh D. McIntosh, of Sydney, in a letter to the newspapers guarantees the raising of £25,000 in Australia towards locally finding and training likely Olympic champions, thus reducing the burdens of lovers of athletics in Britain, while broadening the whole scheme.

Mr. McIntosh's suggestion has been well received in Sydney, and if on his return he decides to go on with the movement, he will find no lack of support. Mr. Hugh Ward believes an Australian movement to secure better representation at Olympic Games might opportunely be made now, and promises to work hard to this end. Mr. "Snowy" Baker, as Mr. McIntosh's successor, and as one who interests himself in all-round athletics, also applauds the proposal. Mr. Baker says the idea is one that he will help along to the utmost of his ability if necessary. He thinks, too, that Government subsidies should be given to assist such movements as secure worthy representation of this country in the world's games. Mr. Baker has been urging Australian athletic authorities to move along in the track blazed by America and Continental nations.

The president of the A.A.A., Mr. R. Coombes, says that Mr. McIntosh is the man the athletic authorities want to meet. They have been hampered by the finance problem, and he declares that there will be no backwardness in taking the money if Mr. McIntosh carries out his idea. Mr. Coombes favours an Empire team for the Games.

A Celebrated Violiniste

Nervous Fatigue, Languor—

The power to excel, the confidence which ensures her brilliant successes, says the talented violinist, Miss Sybil Keymer, is entirely due to her abundance of vigorous nerve force created by Phosferine. How greatly the numerous distinctions and triumphant career of this accomplished musician are promoted by the brain energy and physical stamina developed by Phosferine, is evident from Miss Keymer's admission that the tonic "enabled me to do myself justice." This power to excel, this ability to make the most of her skill, depends upon the marvellous control and steadiness of the muscle nerves Phosferine has given her, and to which she owes the entrancing tone and quality of her musical renditions. Naturally, this energising effect of Phosferine was accompanied by the disappearance of the headaches, listlessness, and fatigue, which were the bane of her public appearances, and it is this happy outcome which impels Miss Keymer to testify to the exceptional advantages to be derived from Phosferine.

Promptly Remedied.

Miss Sybil Keymer, "Riverside," Albany Rd., Leighton Buzzard, Eng., writes: "I think I should inform you that I have recently derived very great benefit from the use of Phosferine. In the course of my profession, I have to travel a good deal in getting to my various concerts, and I find that since using Phosferine I am never troubled with the headaches and listlessness which follow a long railway journey, particularly during hot weather. This is of very great importance to me, as frequently only a very little time elapses between reaching my destination and the commencement of a concert, and it is such a relief to feel fresh and ready for playing in public undisturbed by the fatigues of long travelling. It is because I feel that Phosferine enables me to do myself justice as a violinist, preventing any of the untidiness of the muscle nerves, which is so harmful to tone and quality, that I confidently commend the tonic at every opportunity."—July 11, 1912.

FASHIONS AND FANCIES.

THE TAILOR-MADE UP TO DATE.

Tailors are turning out very smart coats and skirts in moire, satin, and brocade. Many of the skirts are draped, though but slightly, as a certain quality of severity is regarded as inseparable from a tailor-made costume. The skirt is rather longer than it was in the spring and the new fashion of being caught up in front is fairly prevalent. A slate-grey satin is draped in long lines at either side from the waist to the ankles and opens in front in a V-reversed to show pleats of embroidered satin in a paler tone of grey. These are arranged so as to be as long as the draped skirt at the sides but pleated up much shorter in the very front, showing shoes and stockings very generously. Both of these are grey striped with black and the heels of the shoes are embroidered in cut steel. A neat tailor-made is in striped blue and green home-spun with coat in the plain blue, a lovely shade, rather deep but full of colour. The coat has no basques but is cut in straight lines, and is just long enough to cover the hips. The headgear is well-suited to the costume, being a turban carried out in green tulle matching the stripe in the skirt. These new turbans are wide and full. They coil the head most advantageously, allowing a little hair to be visible on the temples, round the ears and on the back of the neck.

LINES AND TRIMMINGS.

The fashion of bordering silk coats with deep frills of black net or tulle seems to have caught on for the moment, but is not likely to last. The frill is easily crushed and when rumpled up gives a dishevelled appearance to the whole toilette, "like a melancholy hen," said one observer. When the frills of black tulle on the hats flop up and down with every breath of wind, the suggestion of agitation is increased. No woman should over-frill herself, but the tendency is decidedly that way. There is something so hopelessly ungraceful in the lines of the tight skirt as worn at the present moment, especially at the back, that lovers of beauty and charm are unanimous in disapproval. On the stage, particularly at the best theatres, where sartorial skill of the costliest is employed, there is always some effort at being replaced by this ungraceful outline by a flowing line. Sometimes it is attained by a slightly gathered narrow breadth which falls in natural folds and is trimmed in harmony with the rest of the skirt. Sometimes the clever manipulation of the skirt secures the good effect.

SILK COSTUMES FOR OUT-OF-DOORS.

Glacé silk has returned to favour for the mid-season costumes so suitable for September's changeable weather. Some of these have the skirts striped, the jacket plain. Many of the newest jackets have very short basques and these are often projecting in character, being held in at the waist by an ornamental belt, from the pressure of which the basques emerge with considerable horizontal fullness. A bright magenta tucks and the little coat quite short with a basque in three sections, the longest at the back, two smaller ones in front. Through these, by means of wide buttonholes, a black satin sash is threaded, the ends tied in a large bow in front. The ends drop some twenty inches, ending in handsome tassels, half magenta, half black. The tiny collar and small revers are in black satin. The magenta of the moment is a brighter tone of the corals that has held such a prime position during the last three years. Its chief recommendation is that it presents such a splendid relief to the favourite combination of black and white.

COIFFURE AND POUCH.

The hair is still worn over the ears, also pulled down well upon the forehead in little flat curls, or rather curved pieces. The new turban-touques are pushed down over these and cover almost all the rest of the hair, save that which comes in front of the ears. The evening coiffure is very small and close, the hair being drawn straight across the head in flat bands, the smoothness of which contrasts with the lightly puffed locks upon the forehead and over the ears. The insidious return of the pouf in the newest blouses may herald an uncouth development of an ugly fashion, or may be but a passing whim. The pouf of some years ago was immensely exaggerated, but when it went it left to us a slight looseness in the front of bodices and blouses that was undeniably an improvement upon the ultra-tightness of a previous period, when the front was dragged down from neck to waist in a fashion as foreign to a graceful line as it was opposed to a good carriage, inducing the wearer to stoop forward, instead of holding shoulders back and head erect.

AT HIS MAJESTY'S.

Will the gowns of Ancient Egypt influence the modes of the moment? They are attractive enough. One of these, worn by Zulika (played by a beautiful and graceful actress) is made of poppy-red chiffon embroidered with gold flowers, and trimmed with gold fringes. The bodice, very Eastern in form, is a mass of jewels, rubies, emeralds, and turquoise. Another and even more wonderful gown is in rose-pink chiffon with a train in cloth-of-gold hung with fringes of bullion gold and so woven as to resemble the overlapping scales of a fish. The accompanying headpiece is gold, much carved and with many precious stones introduced.

THE LATEST IN CAPES.

Novelty upon novelty have succeeded each other throughout the two months of the seaside season. One of the latest is a scarf of broché velvet made with a sleeve for the right arm, but none for the left, where it is simply thrown over the shoulder and falls over the arm at the back in a long, pointed end finished with a tassel. This scarf is quite short on the left hip, but descends in a sloping line to the right knee in a point, whence it

A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY.

IN the best regulated families the little ills of life will creep in. Some member of the family circle may occasionally suffer from Bileusness and Indigestion, and one or the other will from time to time exhibit the well-known symptoms of Constipation. From these little troubles more serious complaints arise, and should therefore not be neglected. The slight headache, bad breath, and a discoloured tongue are the index to a disordered stomach; and the necessity of keeping a safe, sure, and reliable remedy in the house is apparent. By following such a course the more expensive method of calling in a doctor will be found quite unnecessary. That Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the very best Family Medicine is vouched for by thousands of grateful men and women who speak from personal experience.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are not simply a purgative medicine which forces the food out of the bowels, depriving the stomach of its nourishment, and thus starving the system. They contain the essential properties that are temporarily lacking in the stomach through weakness, and complete the digestion and assimilation, and so restore the functions of the digestive organs by obtaining the maximum of nutriment from the food which sustains the body and assures good health.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are an efficient, reliable, and safe remedy placed on the market at a price within the reach of all. The Pills being sugar-coated, are pleasant to take, and retain their full medicinal properties. They are packed in amber-coloured bottles—not in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes—and are thus always fresh and clean, impervious to moisture, unaffected by climatic conditions, and do not deteriorate by keeping as all liquid medicines do.

They are a perfect Blood Purifier and a positive and permanent cure for Bileusness, Indigestion, Constipation, Headaches, Sallow Complexion, Liver and Kidney Troubles, Piles, Pimples, Boils and Blotches, and for Female Ailments.
